Junior programmer

Grateful for working with people and building expertise through experienced developers,
I am driven by goals and enjoy the art of achieving them. I have a comprehensive understanding of software development in both frontend and backend technologies, I learn quickly and code within industry best practices.

Experiencia laboral

Kopius Tech - Frontend Developer

Remote | 01/09/2024 - Ongoing

- Credit software development

Kopius Tech is a digital strategy, design and engineering company. I work on software development for a client - First Close - that requires handling credit delivery requests.
We use React on the Frontend and Node for Backend and Scrum methodologies to manage deliveries.
I have a Frontend position and focus my work on React.
I learned to use Github much more extensively for version control, collaborations through pull requests and code reviews, automated workflows on GitHub Actions and keeping repositories clean and scalable.

Argentina's government - Frontend Developer

Cience and Technology Secretary | On site | 01/02/2024 - 01/08/2024

- Designs layout and Frontend frameworks migrations

I worked with the Frontend side of projects by translating designs into markup language and layout ensuring that they reflected the visual and functional structure defined beforehand. I also implemented this layouts on a Frontend framework (React & Angular).
I learned from seniors frontend developers and used my knowledge on Docker to run the applications.

Experiencia Freelance

Leela Tech - Freelance Frontend Developer

Commissioned work | 01/03/2024

- Freelance assignment for the completion of components for the landing page

I briefly collaborated in the optimization and stability of the project to facilitate its transition to production.
I was faced with the challenge of working on an ongoing project, with Frontend technologies that I had not used and I finished within the agreed time.

Putato - Freelance Frontend Developer

Remote | 01/12/2023

- Website development for raffle sales page

In my first freelance job, I developed the layout of a website for the client's brand, transferring the original design to HTML and CSS. Later migrated the project to Angular to improve the capture and management of form data
